HAPPINESS IS 4-H

By Frank H. Sweet
Extension Agent

Fourteen Appomattox 4-H'ers entered Achievement Records for District and State judging this year. This is an all time high for our county. An Achievement Record is an accumulated record of everything a member has done since the time he or she joined 4-H. To complete and submit an Achievement Record takes a great deal of self-discipline and effort. We're real proud of Susan Parris, Glen Clowdis, Rhonda Nash, Allen Smith, Cheryl Walton, Terri Nash, Lisa Moore, Susan Shorter, Ernie Chenault, David Caldwell, Laurie McLean, Laura Walton, Tamara Nash and Jane Guill. These records will be judged at VPI & SU next week.

Don't forget 4-H Public Speaking tonight (Thursday) at 7:00 p.m. at Appomattox Elementary School. Speakers will be divided into three separate areas to speed up the program. Make your plans to come and hear some excellent speeches.

* * *

Over forty 4-H'ers have signed up to plant pine seedlings this spring. These trees will be delivered from the Division of Forestry Nurseries about the end of March.

* * *

4-H'ers who performed in Share-the-Fun programs in November will be assisting with a special talent show for the PTA at Appomattox Elementary School on Tuesday, February 13. This will be another great opportunity for our young people to develop their talents.

A reminder that the Teen Leader Club will be raising funds for the Interstate Exchange program through the sale of hard candy during this month. All 4-H'ers interested in helping with this project may stop by the Extension Office and sign up.

It will be conducted at the District Office at 1:30 p.m., instead of at the County Extension Office. The District Office is located on Court Street, the new building beside the Post Office.

Mrs. Mary Williams, a retired Extension agent from Amelia County, will conduct the session. Mrs. Williams is very knowledgeable in this area and will be sharing with us her collection of old glassware.

Wheat and Feed Grain Set-Aside - 1979 - The wheat and feed grain set-aside program signup will begin on February 16. This date is just around the corner and now would be a good time to consider what the program means to you if you have not already done so. It may or may not fit into your farming operation, but never the less it is important to the economy of the nation and does deserve some thought from all farmers.

The objectives of the program are to prevent an excessive buildup of wheat and feed grain stocks and to maintain prices to farmers. The program also aims to maintain the feed grain reserves at 748 million bushels and the wheat reserve at 550 million bushels. This includes a 400-million bushel farmer-owned reserve and 150 million bushels in a special reserve to meet food aid commitments.

The programs require that participants set aside acres from production to be eligible for loans, deficiency and disaster payments. The programs are voluntary; however farmers must signup for them to be eligible for the above benefits.

The provisions of the wheat program state that farmers need to set-aside an acreage equal to 20 percent of their 1979 acreage of wheat for harvest as grain. If they reduce their plantings 15 percent from last year they can get 100 percent target-price coverage on all their 1979 acreage for grain.

The feed grain program provisions are that farmers need to set-aside acreage equal to 10 percent of their 1979 acreage of corn and grain sorghum and 20 percent of the 1979 acreage of barley for harvest as grain. You may set-aside an additional 10 percent for acreage planted to corn and/or grain sorghum and receive payment for the additional diverted acreage. Payments will be equal to $1.00 a bushel times the yield established for the farm times the acreage diverted.

The set-aside land must be in an approved cover and it must have been cropped in one of the last three years, or in a regular crop rotational pattern. Provisions also state that there will be no hay taken off set-aside land, no grazing between March 1 and August 31, 1979 and the land must be maintained.

If you have questions concerning the programs, please call or stop by the ASCS office.

Pre-Measurement Service - With the set-aside programs and tobacco planting time coming up, now is the time to consider pre-measurement service. This service, offered by the ASCS office for a nominal fee lets the farmer know how much to plant without overplanting.

Under the set-aside programs, farmers in order to be eligible for program benefits must plant within their normal crop acreage and they must also have the required amount of set-aside. Premeasurement can help guarantee these benefits. Whatever crops under the program you have premeasured, if you plant within the staked areas then you have no worry of overplanting.

Tobacco growers who plan on planting their full allotment or near their allotment may want to consider pre-measurement service so there will be no danger of overplanting their allotment, thus becoming ineligib le for price support. This is especially important to flue producers. Under program regulations flue producers that overplant their allotment will not be eligible to adjust the excess acreage to get back within their allotment. Pre-measurement can help avoid this situation. Fire and sun producers will be able to adjust their excess but premeasurement can help avoid excess in the first place.

If you are interested in pre-measurement service, stop by the ASCS office as soon as possible. The sooner you stop by the office to apply, the sooner the service can be performed thus avoiding any rush later on.

New Grower Tobacco Allotments - Farmers that are interested in applying for a new growers tobacco allotment have until February 15, 1979 to do so.

If you are considering filing an application, you should first understand the following regulations:

1. Neither the owner nor operator shall own or have ownership interst in, or operate another farm with an allotment.

2. The operator must own, or have readily available the equipment and other facilities to grow tobacco.

3. Operator must expect to obtain more than 50 percent of his current year income from farming.

4. Applicant must have grown tobacco during at least two out of the last five years.

5. Operator must own the farm.

6. Land must be suitable for growing tobacco.

Storage Structure and Drying Equipment Loandprogram - This loan is disbursed on 85 percent of the total out-of-pocket cost to the farmer and carries a true 7.0 percent interest rate on the unpaid principal, and the loan is repayable over a five to an eight year period. The repayment period is determined by the applicant.

There are farmers that have expressed an interest in this program, and there is a possibility that the interest rate may increase soon. Therefore, any farmer who has considered applying for a loan is urged to contact the ASCS office.
